Activity	Student Evidence/Feedback
ICT- Students to design a poster titled: Children's Islamic Rights	The students discussed each child's rights and what they meant. Fatima Dudwala replied that the most important one to her is 'Right to Islamic Nurturing' because it is our end goal. Some of the students decided to make a poem about the rights introduced to them. Layba Gofur:  Suraiya Uddin:

	Children's Islamic Rights Children are a trust from Allah Their rights are to be protected They have the right to love and compassion And not to be abused or neglected. Children have the right to education And to be taught what is right and wrong They have a right to a healthy lifestyle So that they may live a life that's long. Children have the right to good company And playing freely They have a right to growing up with Islamic nurturing To be given a good example, ideally. Children have a right to a pious name To reflect them from birth So that may live up to it And know their worth. Children are a trust from Allah Their rights we must protect For they are the future of our ummah And our love for them must reflect. "The best of you is one who gives a good education (intellectual and moral) to his children" - Hadith Ifza Jannat-Hadi
Identity Silhouettes – Art/Literacy Focus	The students were able to represent their identity through a silhouette using their artistic flair. They used different colours, calligraphy, hand drawn pictures, 3D art and collage. The girls used a mind map to help them come out with ideas. Layba Gofur Sanzida at first was not confident to represent herself but watching the other girls overcame her anxiety and started her own silhouette. Sanzida Ifza
